At CAM Property Services, we believe that great service starts with smart solutions. That's why we continue to invest in facility maintenance technology that makes it easier and more efficient for property owners and managers to stay on top of their building needs.

From real-time updates to streamlined communication, our tech-forward approach to property services helps us deliver faster response times, better outcomes, and an unmatched client experience. Here's how we're staying ahead of the competition—and how that benefits you.

Smarter Service with Our Client Portal

Managing multiple properties is no easy task—but our user-friendly Client Portal simplifies the process. Available 24/7, the portal gives clients full visibility into service requests, work orders, project updates, and billing.

With everything in one secure location, property managers can manage maintenance efficiently, minimize downtime, and avoid unnecessary back-and-forth communication. It's just one more way CAM delivers convenient facility maintenance solutions.

Technology-Powered Client Success Center

Our newly launched Client Success Center adapts technology to help route calls and messages to the right CAM team member. This intelligent system helps eliminate delays, reduce miscommunication, and ensure faster service request resolutions.

Whether you need emergency repair, janitorial support, or landscape maintenance, our technology ensures you're connected to the right expert immediately saving time and delivering a better client experience.

A Culture of Innovation

Technology isn't just something we use—it's part of our DNA. From drone inspections and thermal imaging to sustainable water-saving systems, we're constantly leveraging cutting-edge tools to deliver value and results to our clients.

By staying on top of the latest advancements in commercial property maintenance technology, we give our clients the confidence that their facilities are in expert hands.

Experience CAM's Technology Advantage

If you're looking for a facility maintenance partner who combines exceptional service with smart solutions, CAM Property Services is here to help. Let us show you how our tech-powered property services can streamline your operations and elevate your properties.
